Class: please note that to "find" or "show" something, you should start with what is given in the problem and derive the requested result. The book will probably guide you, as will your class notes, but simply declaring the result to be true because it is in the book or your notes is not the useful thing to do (of course!).